

I Am From...

By Brendon

I am from having to be brave when my good neighbor died with such a surprising and unexpected death.

I am from my loving and caring aunt who died and my family feeling very sad because the loss.

I am from my mom who loves me with all her heart because she makes sure that I am healthy and strong, she hugs and kisses me every night..

I am from my dad who loves me because he takes time off from work to be with me, he helps me when I need help and he gives me advice.

I am from having allergies that make my family more healthy because we don't eat most processed foods.

I am from knowing that it's not bad to have allergies because I know that my friends understand my perspective from having allergies.

I am from Christmas and feeling overjoyed because it is both my birthday and a warm, happy Christmas with my family.

I am from new toys and a loving family saying, "Happy birthday!" and giving me other words of encouragement on Christmas day.

I am from every Christmas having bread that is shaped like the holly, jolly Santa that my mom makes with a full heart.

I am from being super silly just like my dad.

I am from doing weird things like making a balloon fly around making fart sounds.

I am from making up funny words and then saying them all the time.

I am from being a little, unique inventor that is full of curiosity and adventure.
