

I Am From...

By Joseph

I am from parents who work hard to save money so they can take care of me because we can buy food and water.

I am from my mom who hugs me to let me know that she loves me because I hug her.

I am from my mom who makes me laugh by tickling me.

I am from my dad who is serious because he wants me to be quiet when he is on the phone.

I am from my baby sister whose clothes smell good like a sweet baby smell.

I am from being a kid that is smart and curious.
