

I Am From...

By Karina

I am from seeing the beach from my front porch when I go out to get on the bus.

I am from knowing that I am an artistic and inventive person who would do anything for anybody because I am thoughtful, caring and kind.

I am from being a horse lover who has ridden 5 horses, that left me feeling amazed, wonderful, free, so optimistic and cheerful the first time.

I am from knowing that I am a unique person because of the way I am.

I am from having to be inspired and doing things alike but also taking inspiration from others.

I am from my dad telling us to do chores everyday when we get home from school when I'd rather be on my computer.

I am from my mom bringing me to my dance class every Monday and leaving me feeling thankful for what she did.

I am from going to the Tulip Festival every year in the Skagit Valley, and when I am there I see the many different colors of flowers like red, orange, yellow, blue, purple, light pink, pink and white.

I am from inspiring people like my teacher, Mrs. Devora and all my friends, best friends and best friends forever.

I am from asking permission to walk to the rocky, drift wood filled, amazing beach near my house when it is sunny outside.

I am from feeling like I am a cheery, bright optimistic little girl that has a HUGE imagination.
