

I Am From

Thomas.M

I am from my wonderful household that I couldn't live without.

I am from cool Converse glasses that sit on the tip of my nose making the world seem better.

I am from warm pepperoni pizza that melts in my mouth like molten lava..

I am from a bunch of friends that help me through a strange life that is mine.

I am from lots of technology that makes my life easier.

I am from wood floors that are always messy.

I am from happy Christmas' that my family and I enjoy.

I am from creating quotes like: "The world holds many mysteries that it does not want mankind to discover"

I am from smelling pizza in the kitchen every time my mom makes it.

I am from hearing my dog bark about 1,000,000 times during the night.

I am from seeing trees in the summer when we go hiking.

I am from feeling happy, sad, worried, excited, and just plain being unique.
