

I Am From...

By Kaydence

I am from eating mashed Potatoes and Gravy, Turkey, Stuffing and veggies, thinking the food is really good with everyone talking very loud and feeling a little annoyed by the noise.

I am from my parents who works really hard all week to get money to take us to Disneyland and Oregon where we have fun.

I am from having a sleepover with my friends, having a lot of fun and making myself cry because I am laughing to hard.

I am from my mom telling me to do my chores and taking about an hour to do them.

I am from my dad asking me what I want to do if I look bored.

I am from my aunt, grandma and grandpa always spoiling me with treats.

I am from my aunt's dogs being so cute and fluffy.

I am from my cat being sweet and his meow getting quieter every time I hear him.

I am from being a little sister, feeling sad when I have no one to play with when I get home because my family is always busy

I am from being a girl who misses her dogs because I am kind and gentle .
